BRETT WILKINSON

FOUNDING PARTNER, Kairos Economics

Background

Brett co-founded Kairos Economics in 2023. He specialises in providing economic support on matters of competition, regulatory finance, and regulatory strategy to firms, industry bodies, regulators and policy makers. Before founding Kairos Economics, Brett provided economic support for high-profile corporate clients and competition authorities in the context of regulatory appeals, abuse of dominance investigations, UK mergers, and competition compliance reviews for KPMG's Economics practice. He has worked across a range of sectors including Financial Services, Technology and Utilities. Brett has a decade of industry experience in investment banking. He was responsible for structuring and trading derivative transactions designed for hedging, financing and capital structure management. Brett has led the execution and risk-management of multi-million dollar transactions with corporate entities, sovereign wealth funds, and high net worth individuals, across all major financial markets globally.
